SOUTHERN AFRICA

Editorial

Dear readers,

- It really is unbelievable how the entire world changed within a few weeks and that we face this uncertainty of how the future will look like post-covid-19. While wealthier countries such as Switzerland are well-prepared to manage a crisis like this, it is a completely different story for Southern Africa. The virus is only expected to peak in South Africa in September, and our poorer neighbours are starving already as they are prevented from going to work due the lockdown. The upcoming winter months are going to be exceptionally difficult for many people and I hope that we will make it through this as a community where we look out for each other and support those who have much less. Look after yourself and your loved ones and stay healthy.

Address from the Swiss Ambassador

The Swiss Embassy in Pretoria, the Consulate General in Cape Town and the Consulate in Durban are available should any Swiss require support during these unprecedented times.

Dear fellow Swiss citizens, the current COVID-19 pandemic keeps the world on its toes and brought significant change to us in the blink of an eye. On 5 March 2020, the first person was tested positive in South Africa and our country of residence adapted quickly. Only three weeks later, we found ourselves in a nationwide lockdown where our professional and leisure activities were limited to what is absolutely essential – shopping for food, delivering essential services, receiving medical treatment.

These were harsh measures taken by the South African government but the Swiss representations in South Africa appreciate the bold stance of President Cyril Ramaphosa since the daily number of people affected by COVID-19 decreased sharply. This allowed South Africa to gain time and to better prepare for the weeks and months to come.

Be reassured that the Embassy of Switzerland in Pretoria, the Consulate General in Cape Town, and the Consulate in Durban are here to assist you should the need for support arise. Please address your enquiry to our colleagues to: southernafrica@eda.admin.ch or capetown@eda.admin.ch. The same applies to the additional ten countries our Regional Consular Centre in Pretoria is accredited to. Please visit our website (www.eda.admin.ch/pretoria) for further information or send your enquiry to: southernafrica@eda.admin.ch.

Please also be advised that the Consular Days 2020 have been postponed until further notice due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The RCC will inform you of new dates as soon as they are available. If you wish to renew your Swiss passport in the meantime, you can do so after the lockdown has been lifted either at the RCC in Pretoria or at a cantonal passport office in Switzerland. Please contact the RCC for further information.

I wish you a lot of strength and good health during this challenging time!

■ Yours sincerely,
Dr. Nicolas Brühl
Ambassador

Soliswiss Stands for Solidarity among the Swiss Abroad

Many Swiss abroad love the country in which they live. They have made dear friends, built their livelihoods and some even found love there. In short: this place has become their new home. However, many Swiss abroad are currently facing trying times. The COVID-19 pandemic and its economic fallout is posing a major concern.

disasters such as rising crime rates, looting or civil unrest.

Soliswiss - Your Switzerland abroad

In particular when the going gets tough, having maintained a link to Switzerland is valuable, be it through the Swiss Embassy, the Organisation of the Swiss Abroad (OSA) or, last but not least, Soliswiss. Since 1958, Soliswiss has been committed to solidarity with

After numerous countries closed their borders in response to the corona outbreak, people from all over the world – members and non-members alike – reached out to Soliswiss with their worries: globetrotters were stranded far from home; parents wondered whether they should bring their daughter back from her six-month student exchange; a hotel manager was accused of having negligently contributed to the spread of the corona virus. They contacted Soliswiss for advice and support.

Others are haunted by financial worries, for example a family who had already quit their jobs because they had planned to go on a world trip, or a couple who had just opened a new business that might not survive the lockdown. And then there is the widely shared fear that the economic downturn might lead to even bigger and among Swiss citizens living or traveling abroad, globetrotting or wishing to return to Switzerland. Soliswiss has members in more than 130 countries, many of them in Southern Africa. As a cooperative, we are mainly financed by moderate membership fees and donations.

Member further benefit from exclusive products such as a guest insurance for their visit or temporary stay in Switzerland, a personal liability insurance, a pension plan, an emergency plan (Plan B) or a Swiss mail delivery address, all tailored to the needs of Swiss abroad.

Good planning and risk management helps, but sometimes the unexpected still happens – and hits hard. The corona crisis is one such unexpected event. In such situations, Soliswiss stands at your side by providing concrete information and advice. ASO UPDATE

The March council meeting in Bern on 14th March had to be cancelled, due to the restrictions put in place by the federal council.

The topics on hand were however covered by a skype session of the management committee of the council and were then put to the vote electronically to all council members. On 21 August, the next council meeting will be held in Lugano, ahead of the Auslandschweizer Kongress over that weekend, i.e. 22-23 August, provided that the restrictions have been eased or lifted by then.

I cannot stress enough the importance to keep your data kept by the consulate up to date, i.e. current email address, cell phone number, place of residence, validity of your passport etc. This is the information the consulate uses when contacting Swiss Expats living in our jurisdiction in a case of emergency. Let us all hope, that this nightmare will pass in the not too distant future.

Keep safe and stay healthy.
